Personal statement

When I was a keiki growing up we had all heard stories your kupuna would tell everyone, thinking it was just a story only to understand now that this is what they had been talking about all along. Nation building is what they had been talking about. I was always told to get a good education because I will need it someday and someday is happening now. Our kupuna warned us about protecting Hawai'i, our ohana and especially our 'aina. This is it! This is what they spoke about; this is why they signed the Ku'e and this is why they left us a legacy of information that we can now implement.
