Personal statement

'Ano 'ai ke aloha, I am running as delegate in this process because I feel it is an opportunity for our community to assert political agency in a way that could make significant impacts on the Native Hawaiian community and management of Hawai'i's most precious resources. This 'aha can lead to major changes that will have positive impacts on our people on an everyday basis. Increasing opportunities for housing, education, and food security are the issues most important for me heading into this process. I believe we can fight for all of those things and find success as a lāhui. However, I do feel that this process of nation-building has been flawed and has suffered as a result of poor leadership. That said, I feel it is up to a new generation of leaders to be a part of this process. For it is the next generations that will deal with the outcomes in the years to come. I want to be one of the voices representing the next generations. I will also work to ensure that any citizenry and voting rights are inclusive and that EVERY Hawaiian, no matter blood quantum or their geographic location will be given opportunity to participate in our lāhui.
