

Darnell Lopez

I am a seasoned financial professional with over 14 years of experience, and I am running for the Riverbay Corporation Board of Directors. Raised in Co-op City, I returned to the community as a shareholder, demonstrating my enduring commitment to the area.

I am the founder of the Co-op City Basketball Classic (CCBC), a tournament that has become a staple in the community, providing youth with opportunities to engage in athletics and build camaraderie. My dedication to youth development extends beyond sports; I aim to implement programs that promote STEM education, business acumen, and athletic involvement.

With my financial expertise, I plan to bring a strategic perspective to the Board, focusing on fiscal responsibility and sustainable growth for the community. My vision includes creating partnerships with organizations that can offer resources and mentorship to young residents, preparing them for future success.

My deep roots in Co-op City and my professional background position me as a candidate who understands the community's needs and possesses the skills to address them effectively. My campaign emphasizes transparency, community engagement, and the empowerment of residents through education and opportunity.

As the election approaches, I encourage residents to participate in the voting process and share their ideas for the community's future. I believe that collaborative efforts between the Board and shareholders are essential for fostering a thriving and inclusive environment in Co-op City.

For more information on my campaign and initiatives, residents are encouraged to attend upcoming community meetings and engage with campaign materials distributed throughout the neighborhood.

Vote for me, Darnell Lopez, along with Kevin Lambright, Bishop Angelo Rosario, Grace Solomon, and Keith Logan. We are TEAM UNITY!!!
